The large menu consists of American food such as appetizers, side orders, salads, steaks and chops, classic entrees like grilled beef, liver with onions, roast turkey, meatloaf, seafood, sandwiches, burgers and of course, desserts. For excellent Greek food, you must try their fabulous Greek dishes which are served with a Greek salad. Specialties are Pastitsio, Moussaka, Spanakopita, Shiskabob, or if you cannot decide, try a Greek Platter. Authentic Gyros are also served.

Any menu item is available for take-out. They also offer a full catering service and a banquet area that can accommodate small or large groups.

The restaurant was started in 1952 on the three hundred block of 8th Street in Reading by the current owners' grandfather, Nick Varris. His daughter, Despina and husband, John Frangakis, took over in 1963 and they moved the restaurant to its present location at 2295 Lancaster Pike, Shillington in 1982. Their children, Isidoros Frangakis and Anna Burkman, took over as owners in 2018. Deluxe Restaurant has always been a family run business. Customers feel like extended family for Isidoros and Anna. They love that their restaurant provides locals a place to find and embrace new friendships.

They have a very friendly staff and 85% of the staff has been working there for a very long time. Deluxe Restaurant is food safe certified and always gets a great-food inspection each time.
