

HARTZ

Physical Therapy

HARTZ Physical Therapy is an independent, family-owned outpatient physical therapy clinic with 5 locations, all in Lancaster County. Serving the community for the past 20 years, the core of their mission is ensuring unparalleled patient outcomes with a commitment to customer service. Brian Hartz, DPT founded HARTZ Physical Therapy to fulfill his vision of creating an environment where he could not only hire, train and retain the best clinicians in Lancaster County, but also, could ensure that they felt valued, so that they, in turn, would be motivated and capable of providing patients with the best possible care.

Healthcare is changing at a rapid rate with the most noticeable change being consolidation of services. Large healthcare systems are growing and privately-owned clinics are becoming fewer and far between, despite providing outstanding customer service and often having better outcomes. We are very proud to say that HARTZ Physical Therapy has not only survived, but actually thrived in this competitive marketplace, due in large part to our loyal past patients, who refer their friends and family to our clinics.

It is important for patients to know that it is their choice where to go to physical therapy. HARTZ PT can often save patients money verses outpatient PT services provided by a hospital-owned clinic. In addition, patients will have quicker access to care, with new patients typically scheduled within 24-48 hours. Quick access to care means a quicker recovery!

If you are feeling pain, don't wait. A physician's referral is not necessary. HARTZ Physical Therapy has five locations in Lancaster County to serve patients.
