Art Pannebecker and Brad Wolf are continuing their tradition of conducting professional auctions in a warm and friendly environment at Renningers Antique Market every Monday. From antiques, tools, coins, household items, you can find a variety of items to bid on at the auction house. If the present economy has you looking for good deals on furniture and household goods, stop by during an auction to see the selection available. Art and Brad are also available for on-site real estate sales. They help get auctions ready for sale day and conduct open houses for their clients. They enjoy meeting people and satisfying their sale needs. They conduct many benefit auctions throughout the year for churches, fire companies and Adamstown Library.

Art Pannebecker started in the auction business over 40 years ago and was joined more than 10 years ago by his grandson Brad Wolf. Brad is now president of the corporation and also a realtor with Berkshire

Hathaway Home Sales. Many of the auction staff have been with Art and Brad for many years and also enjoy helping to provide the best auction experience possible.

Art Pannebecker & Brad Wolf Auctioneers, Inc. sales are held every Monday in Renningers Antique Market, 2500 N. Reading Rd. Denver, Rt. 272.
