Pamela Urban incorporated Pattern Design Unlimited in 1987 when Hemmerich Industries dissolved. The goal was to continue the function of Hemmerich's Product Development team by employing four department team members. Three of those initial employees still work there today – Pamela Urban, Carol Smith, and Lola Wolfe. These valued employees have adapted to the changing needs of the business.

In 2014, Yellow Dog Apparel was formed DBA Pattern Design Unlimited Corporation. Dean Stoltz, also a former Hemmerich sewing machine mechanic, partnered with Pamela Urban to offer cut and sew contracting at the Reinholds facility. He acquired his electrical training during his 20-year service with the U.S. Navy. He has been a sewing machine mechanic and sewn production supervisor for more than 30 years.

Yellow Dog Apparel functions as a cut and sew contracting service, employing fabric cutters, sewing machine operators, and sewing machine mechanics.
