We're SOLD on serving you!

Specializing in Real Estate, Machinery, Business Liquidations & Estates

Les Longenecker and Joel Heisey are now L&H Auctions, Inc. After a combined 50 plus years in the auction business, they decided that they could better serve their clients as a team. Whether your assets include real estate, equipment, antiques, or complete farm or business liquidations, the L&H Auctions, Inc. team will strive to maximize your potential.

L&H Auctions, Inc. is an on-site auction company specializing in real estate auctions, farm equipment and machinery, and antique and estate auctions. It is their experience that well-organized and properly promoted auctions are successful. They will assist you with sorting and setting up and advertising your auction with electronic and paper media. L&H Auctions will use professional signage, color brochures and advertise in local and national publications where merited. Your auction will also be published on several websites with many photos for potential buyers to view.

The goal of L&H Auctions is to give customers an excellent value for their services. It is their desire to provide outstanding service to use both their God-given talents, as well as their professional experience to the advantage of their clients. It is their success that motivates them to conduct their auctions with the highest level of integrity. They are in the auction business to not only serve sellers, but buyers as well. If you can't attend an auction and would like to place an absentee bid or bid live, you can call them in advance so they can accommodate you and make you aware of the protocols. Les can be reached at 484-256-1323 and Joel can be reached at 717-949-3211.
